

DECUSSATA

A Taste of ANDREAN

Jeff Dzyacky, Jim Halfman, and John Kerr show school spirit at an assembly honoring the boys' varsity basketball team for winning Z-95's Team of the Week award.

Andrean High School Merrillville, Indiana Decussata 1988-1989 Volume XXXI

During English class, Sheila Fagen introduces Richard Mayhoe, Ken Baillot, and Cynthia Oslawski to a pomegranate — the fruit that causes Persephone's downfall.

Meredith Sattler pauses before the Freddy Krueger doll, the focal point of the sophomores' Homecoming float.

"Our purpose is to consciously, deliberately evolve towards a wiser, more liberated and luminous state of being to return to Eden, make friends with the snake, and set up our computers among the wild apple trees." — Tom Robbins

Jon Reens and Eric Delaney gasp for breath after completing the fifth lap of Andrian's second annual Walk-a-thon.

After kicking off Homecoming festivities with his rendition of "The Star-Spangled Banner," Wayne Mesmer entertains questions from Geri Tucker, Jennifer Turnbull, Chris Espinoza, Jennifer Raich, and a young fan.

As the snake said to Eve, "Take a bite." Yield to temptation. Sample the visual feast that captures the spirit of Andean. Savor the year's insights. Relish the memories preserved within these pages. Nibble, gnaw, snack, devour — dig in.

Sam Bennett and Tanita Richardson dance to the slow tunes provided by Hammer the Jammer at the Homecoming dance.

Arthur Harris, Quichea Armour, and Corrie Wild lend their support to the Fifty-niners during an intense sectionals play-off.

Jeannette Rech, Susie Mueller, Angie Caban, Lisa Heim, and Deon Giannini discuss strategy with Coach Tom Mack before defeating the juniors in powder puff football.

After a grueling day with normal schedules, Angel Garcia and Quichea Armour stop in the cafeteria for a soothing can of soda.

Dan Dhana finally cracks correcting papers at the Andread-sponsored Math into Action program for elementary school students.

Bishop Gaughn blesses the recently constructed guidance center.

Shad Schultz and John Monik abandon their dates and invade the floor at the Homecoming dance.

STUDENT COUNCIL

What's best about Andrean? The best thing about our school is the friendships we have made.

Andrean is a melting pot. Our friends come from all over Northwest Indiana and all over the world. Because of their diverse backgrounds, they bring us new social attitudes and new ideas. We have learned to adapt to different views and to share our ideas and concerns. We grow as people, and our friends are a big influence. We are different, better people because of the times we have shared with our friends.

What happens after high school? Four years go by quickly, and we won't remember every fact we ever learned, but we will remember the good times we shared with our friends. We must hang onto those memories, for they're the things that will make us smile down the road, not remembering which state first ratified the Constitution (unless, of course, it's the answer to the Final Jeopardy question for $25,000).

Good luck in all your endeavors.

Bob Eck

P.S. By the way, Delaware was the first state to ratify the Constitution.

STUDENT COUNCIL OFFICERS AND MODERATORS: Mrs. Bosak, Treasurer, Marci Beishline; President, Bob Eck; Vice President, Heather Rakoczy; Secretary, Stephanie Hanlon; Mrs. Owen.

Marci Beishline delivers the treasurer's report.

Lady Niners Own Broadway

"The Lady Niners own Broadway!" insists Coach Marich. Led by the balance on the court and the depth on the bench, the varsity squad was able to defeat the rival Pirates in both battles of the season.

The first victory came in the season opener (12-15, 15-6, 15-4). Ironically the second win closed the season (15-13, 15-5) when the Niners won the first round of the Merrillville Sectional.

The season record was 16-15. Special awards included:

freshman Jennifer Kroepfl, Most Improved; senior Denise Viene, Best Defensive; and senior Nora Fagen, Most Valuable.

Good Start

The freshman team finished the season with six wins and three losses pulling together to defeat powers Bishop Noll and Valparaiso. In the Valparaiso game, Nick Urukalo kicked a 37 yard field goal on the last play of the game to capture the victory. Special awards went to the following: Rob Lemmons, Most Valuable Player; Brett Galvan, Most Improved Player; Leo Doumanian, Best Defensive Player; and Joe Santos, Best Offensive Player.

Outstanding Character

When the going gets tough, things get tougher. Hindered by extensive injuries, including those to seniors Darren Wesley and Matt Miklosy, the powerful varsity defense was not enough to overcome the season's obstacles. The team made an impressive showing in the Luther South game, going into double overtime, but Niners were ultimately defeated 36-30. Again, in the sectional against Hammond Morton, victory went to the opponent 13-7 after an overtime struggle. Special awards went to the following: Dan Dailey, Best Offensive Lineman; Darren Wesley; Tim Zimmer, Best Specialist; DeAndre Hudson, Best Defensive Back; Joe Doyle, Best Defensive Lineman; Shawn Lemmons, Best Linebacker; Pat Townsend, Most Coachable Player; Jose Munoz, Most Valuable Player. Head Coach Ivan Zimmer said the 1988 team was a "team of outstanding character."

Big Season

The harriers were hit hard by unusual injuries. Pete Sanchez suffered a broken leg and came back. Brian Massengill ran with a bone problem, then developed a muscle strain. Then, according to Coach Horvath, "The most discouraging thing was losing Brian Kopack to his back condition."

Despite untimely injuries, the team captured one first place, two seconds, and one third in various invitational. The first place finish came in the Boone Grove Invitational — the Niners' first first place in that invitational in four years. In addition, Niners placed third in sectionals and sixth in regionals.

Special awards included Most Valuable Players Brian Kopack and Tim Swan; Most Improved Player, Mark Mirro; the 59er Award went to Brian Kopack.

Although the season seemed ill-fated, a determined squad finished with a 12-3 record, which ties the second best record in Andean's history.

Sectional Champs

Despite the fact that only three runners returned from last year, the girls' cross country team gained the sectional title. For the first time in the history of Andean the cross country team qualified for regionals by upsetting arch-rival Merrillville. In sectionals Heather Holzer came in first, followed by Deanna Perrin, Michelle Penn, Geri Tucker, Laura Tucker, Julie Tucker, and Michelle Dickelman. At the end of the season Heather Holzer was awarded Most Valuable Player, and Julie Tucker was named Most Improved Player. Change was the key word for the boys' varsity basketball team. Coach Bob Buscher took over the team in August. Along with the new leader came a new system. The team focused on patience, poise, and togetherness.

All pistons were firing as the team posted a 16-7 record including victories over Lake Central, Calumet, and Lowell. The Fifty-Niners charged into tournament play and captured the Hammond Sectional title with a victory over defending champ Hammond.

Senior leadership was provided by Brian Kopack and MVP's Damon Joshua and Sam Bennett. Sophomores Mike Lustina and Brandon Brantley established a foundation for the future.

Coach Buscher commented on the season, "I am very proud of this team. They worked well together and had fun. That's all I can ask."

Setback Season

Despite dropping five close games, the Lady Niners improved during the 1988-89 basketball season to finish with a record of 5-13. The highlight of the season was a 59-52 win over Highland, which avenged an earlier loss to the Trojans and gave the Niners third place in the Merrillville Holiday Tournament.

Seniors Jen Martin, Barb Pictor, Jen Potter, and Peg Sullivan contributed valuable floor leadership.

The team was led by Most Valuable Player Peg Sullivan, who was also named to the Academic All-State Honorable Mention team, and Best Defensive Player Tiffany Smolar. Amy Reynolds received the Best Freethrow Percentage award.

Morales Leads

The Andean Fifty-Niner wrestling team finished an impressive season with a 7-5 record. The team was led by senior wrestlers Paul Morales, Jim Jacobs, Joe Exl, Rob Clayton. Tim Harley, Dan Dailey, and Fanon Rucker.

After four months of battling for practice space and working out transportation problems, Niner wrestlers pulled away with a third place at the Wirt sectionals.

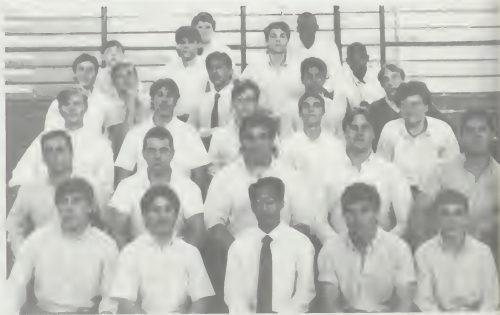

Three-Time sectional champ Paul Morales earned a special plaque for qualifying for the semi-state wrestling meet. Most Valuable Player award went to Bob Heckler, junior. Rob Clayton, senior, received the Most Improved award.

Year of Firsts

"This is the best team I've ever coached," said Mr. Sanchez about the soccer team. Niners posted a 12-1-1 regular season record. Never before in the nine years of Andean soccer has a team achieved such an impressive record. The only loss came against a tough Valparaiso team.

The biggest win of the season came against Portage. Tim Hutchens, junior, scored the only goal against the Indians, who had not lost a game in regular season play in three years.

Coach Sanchez said that the team "typifies the Andrean athletes — always gentlemen." This year, however, one lady, Peggy Sullivan, senior, joined the team as the first girl ever to play Andrean soccer.

Second-Time Most Valuable Player Pete Sanchez and Most Improved Players Mark Mirro and Dennis Billena led the team through a successful season. Niners competed for the first time for the Northern Indiana Cup in the spring state tournament, where South Bend Riley beat the Niners in a post-regulation-time shootout. In the Mishawaka Marian Tournament, senior DeAndre Hudson received the Most Valuable Defensive Player award.

Though the team worked hard, they also had fun. Coach Sanchez said, "This season was the most fun I've had as a coach."

High point of the season came when Niners took three of four divisions for first place at the Lake Station Invitational.

New Challenges

1989 provided a challenging season for the Andean girls' tennis team. Practice started in February indoors at the Hudson Campbell tennis complex in Gary. Competition began after spring break when the team conquered Wheeler on the home courts.

After several injuries, positions were finalized a few days before sectionals. On Saturday May 20th, the team took on Crown Point at Highland High School.

Special awards were given to Shelley Wylie, MVP, and Sherry Stanzone, for consistency and dedication.

The Andean girls' golf team finished with a 6-7 record and a big win over Merrillville. The team's two returning seniors, Lisa Dobogai and Laura Bianchi, did well for the Niner golf team as did juniors Lori Klus and Missy Macielak. Anchor for the team was freshman Julie Norris who qualified for regionals with a score of 95. Norris also earned Most Valuable Player award.

Top Team Spirit

The overall record of the boys' track team reflected the ability of each individual. As a team, they won not only Merrillville, Bishop Noll, and Lew Wallace track meets, but also the Munster Invitational, and the Andrean Relays. Their individual records of the season came from two relay teams, the sprint medley relay and the 400 meter relay.

Twenty-one members of the team qualified for sectionals. Brian Kopack, the only member to qualify for regionals, was scratched because of an injury.

Awards went to Brian Holmes, most improved in field events, Dan Dailey, most valuable in field events, Matt Potochick, most improved runner, Jim Gray, most valuable runner, and Brian Kopack the team M.V.P.

Track Comeback

As the indoor season began, the Lady Niners found themselves in a drought, dropping their first three meets. But after rigorous practices at the Dunes, the girls pooled their talents and celebrated victories over Boone Grove and Indianapolis Arlington. The Niners also earned second place in the Munster Invite.

The M.V.P. award went to Heather Holzer, the Most Improved Player award to Laurie Ropel, and the best race to Laura Tucker.

That Championship Season

The baseball team finished the season with an impressive record of 19-12 — including a 3-2 victory over state-ranked Hammond Morton. Niner sluggers completed another nineteen-win season which has been the tradition every year in the 1980's. Capturing their fourth sectional title, the Niners went on to defeat second-ranked Bishop Noll, 2-1 in the regional semifinals. The season closed with an extra-inning 7-6 loss to Lake Central in the championship game.

Awards were presented to the following players:

Most Valuable Player — Sean Flesher
 Golden Glove — Tom Hilbrich
 Best Pitcher — Eric Mihal
 Best Attitude — Chuck Sawochka
 Hardest Practicer — Shawn Lemmons
 Charlie Hustle — Scott Burton
 Rookie of the Year — Eric Dushane

Best Ever

Girls' varsity softball's winning record marks a milestone in the Andean program. Their 16-5 finish is the best ever to be held by an AHS softball team. Lady Niners were ranked tenth in a preseason coaches' poll, but fell to eighteenth after a 6-3 opening loss to Crown Point. Immediately following the loss, they rallied to a twelve game winning streak. Victories were captured by narrow margins against rival contenders, including Portage, Chesterton, Hobart, and Valparaiso. The season was highlighted by a second consecutive undefeated sweep of the Viking Invitational. Also, after winning a 6-2 battle over sixth-ranked Lake Central, Coach Rev. Joe Lanza-laco said, "This win proves we can play with the big kids." The team rotated three senior pitchers with leadership from catcher Jennifer Martin behind the plate. Pitcher Laura Bianchi allowed the fewest walks, while Jenny Potter hurled the most strike-outs and Heather Rakoczy maintained the lowest earned run average. Although the team fell to Valparaiso in the Sectional, a season with three times as many wins than losses could not be taken from the record books. Four players, Nora Fagen, Jennifer Martin, Jenny Potter, and Heather Rakoczy, were four year veterans. Special awards included: Rookie of the Year, Kris Filipis; Most Improved, Maria Velasco; Most Spirit, Eileen McGuire; Best Offensive Player, Sarah Hoffman; Best Defensive Player, Jenny Potter; Most Consistent Pitcher, Laura Bianchi.

Niner Spirit Shines

Fifty Niner cheerleaders had a successful year in both competition and in rousing the fans. Varsity Captain Trisha Skowronski won an All-American award at summer camp and the varsity squad carried Andrean spirit all the way to Milwaukee, Wisconsin, for a competition.

Freshmen also competed in Indianapolis. The squads' buoyant enthusiasm was expressed not only in cheers and mounts, but also in posters and homemade cookies for the players. According to their sponsor, Miss Olivotto, "The 88-89 cheerleaders did an outstanding job this year. Through their spirited efforts, the Niners were able to create the enthusiasm that was needed for an exceptional season!"

Star Performers

The pom pon squad showed its dedication to Andean teams and fans by performing at home games and pep assemblies. In addition to long hours of practice, the girls attended camp at Valparaiso University, where they received a second place rating and a trophy for being among the top five squads at camp. The poms also came in fourth of twelve squads in a Southlake Mall competition. Captains Lisa Pozzo and Kim Kellenberger agree that the activity promotes school spirit, and provides fun for fans and for squad members, too.

Names

"Somewhere, what with all these clouds, and all this air, there must be a rare name somewhere ..." — Aristophanes

Andrean, as a matter of fact, has 324 of them.

324 Andrean students (about one-third of the student body) share their first names with no other student. From Ariel to Willard, Anise to Zandra, Andrean is full of one-of-a-kind students with one-of-a-kind names.

But the originality of the Andrean student doesn't end there. Eight girls here share the same name, for example, but they don't agree how to spell it — is it Kellee, Kelley, Kelli, or Kelly?

Girls on the average tend to show more variety with names. 37% of Andrean girls share their names with no other student, as compared to the 28% of Andrean boys in that same category.

And what of the other 658 students who aren't part of this group, the ones whose names must be considered "ordinary"?

All of these so-called ordinary names may have been created equal, but at Andrean some are definitely "more equal" than others. Andrean has, for instance, 42 Jennifers — by far the most popular name of the student body. Michaels and Mikes together form the second most popular group, with a total of 30 students sharing that name. On the average, in every group of 25 girls two will be named Jennifer, and in a group of 25 boys at least one (if not two) will probably be named Mike.

Other popular girls' names are Michelle (13 students), Lisa (12), Kimberly (11), and Amy (11). For the boys, John (25 students) is the second most common name. Also popular are the names Brian (18), Robert (12), and Timothy (11).

The old standards, of course, aren't gone: many students are named after the Evangelists and martyrs. Traditional old John and Mary, however, will eventually have to make way for Michael and Jennifer — Andrean's couple of the '90's.

CLASS OF 1989

After four years the class of 1989 has finally come out on top. We swept the other classes in Armageddon, winning by two points over the juniors. We worked for two long weeks on the Homecoming float and earned first prize. Prom was well-attended and one of the best ever, and we reinstituted the senior dinner. We learned more about each other and made new friends at the weekend retreats. We brightened the walls of Wyler's Children's Hospital in Chicago by painting murals of cartoon characters to hang in young patients' rooms.

Homerooms donated money necessary to complete this project. Most of all, after four demanding years, the senior class of 1989 has graduated, and even though we will be separated, the memories of our senior year will stay with us always.

Tragedy Strikes

Armenian earthquake

The worst earthquake in recent history occurred in Armenia. Hundreds were killed, and many villages were destroyed. Soviet premier Mikhail Gorbachev cut short his United States visit in order to oversee rescue and relocation operations.

British soccer incident

Ninety-three people were crushed to death and hundreds severely injured when fans flooded through the gates of a soccer stadium in Sheffield, England.

Oil spill

An Exxon oil tanker ran aground at Prince William Sound, Alaska, spilling tons of oil into Arctic waters and causing considerable damage to surrounding wildlife. The captain, at the time legally intoxicated by naval standards, was held responsible for the incident.

Cult killing

Fifteen mutilated bodies were found on a small ranch on the Mexican-American border. The victims had been ritually slain by drug dealers who believed that human sacrifices would protect them from the police.

Hammond bank robbery

Three Hammond youths stormed into a Hammond bank, armed and masked. They made off with a little over $10,000 after killing a teller. Apprehended days later, the three were tried and convicted as adults.

Tanning bed death

A Portage woman died of severe burns resulting from tanning bed use after taking psoralen, a medication that makes the skin sensitive. Her tanning bed-related death is reported to be the first of its kind.

Crisis in China

What began as a student protest exploded into full-fledged revolution in China. The college students staged sit-ins in Beijing's Tiananmen Square protesting corrupt government administration and demanding reforms such as freedom of press and youth involvement in the Politburo.

The government proclaimed martial law early in the protest, but students continued to defy the government and demand democracy. A power struggle between Deng Xiaoping, Li Peng, Chinese prime minister, and Zhao Ziyang, Chinese Communist party leader, made it easier for the students to demand more openly. However, on June 4, the government struggle ended and the People's Army attacked the unarmed students killing up to two thousand.

Benazir Bhutto

Benazir Bhutto caused an immediate sensation by becoming the first female leader of Pakistan. Feminists were taken aback, however, when Radcliffe grad Bhutto agreed to an arranged marriage in an effort to silence her detractors.

In and Out of Favor

Salman Rushdie

After declaring Salman Rushdie's The Satanic Verses "blasphemous" and "an insult to the Moslem faith," the Ayatollah Khomeini offered an eleven million dollar bounty for the British author's assassination. Rushdie, with the support of the British government and the literary world, went into hiding.

Presidential election

The 1988 Presidential election was a true media event. In July Democrats held their convention and chose Michael Dukakis, Governor of Massachusetts, as their Presidential nominee. Dukakis nationalized his party's ticket by naming Lloyd Bentsen of Texas as his Vice-Presidential nominee. In August Republicans nominated George Bush as Presidential candidate. In a surprise move Bush picked Dan Quayle, Senator from Indiana, as Vice President.

The fall campaign which began the day after Labor Day was, some say, the worst smear campaign ever. Such subjects as the Pledge of Allegiance and Willy Horton overshadowed the important issues of the debt, the savings and loan crisis, and nuclear weapons. Michael Dukakis and Dan Quayle were personally attacked many times during the campaign, Dukakis for possible psychological problems and Quayle for his alleged stupidity and naivete. On November 8 Americans elected George Bush and Dan Quayle President and Vice-President of the United States.

Ollie North

After eight weeks of testimony and twelve days of deliberation, jurors for Oliver North's trial found him guilty on three of the twelve counts facing him from the Iran-Contra scandal. Conspiracy charges in North's case had to be dropped for national security reasons.

John Tower

The Senate turned down President Bush's nomination of John Tower for Secretary of Defense after investigation into Tower's background revealed "womanizing tendencies" and a possible drinking problem.

Jim Wright

Speaker of the House Jim Wright resigned from his post after charges were filed against him for his alleged financial misdealings, including a questionable royalties contract for his book on reflections of public life. Majority leader Thomas Foley was elected to replace him.

Putu, Siku, and Kanik

A nation watched with bated breath as rescue efforts were put together to save three grey whales trapped under ice near Point Barrow, Alaska. Rescuers were successful in saving two of the three whales.

Discovery

Researchers at NASA breathed a sigh of relief at the successful launching of the space shuttle Discovery, the first such undertaking since the Challenger disaster. The Discovery achieved its major goal — sending a tracking and data relay satellite towards its designated orbit — and revived the United States' languishing space program.

The Seventies

Like a recurring nightmare, Seventies tastes and fashions reappeared in full force. Wildly printed ties, larger collars, and wider-cuffed pants resurfaced, as did longer hair for men and women. The Bee Gees and Donny Osmond charted musical comebacks, as progressive bands covered K.C. and the Sunshine Band hits, and T.V. classics like Mission: Impossible were resurrected.

The Art Institute of Chicago

The Art Institute of Chicago came under fire for displaying Scott Tyler's work, "What is the Proper Way to Display a U.S. Flag?" The exhibit featured a book in which museum-goers could record their answers after walking across an American flag spread upon the floor. Veterans were enraged, and the Senate agreed, 97-0, that such desecration should be a federal offense.

Richard M. Daley

Chicago area voters experienced a sense of déjà vu as Richard M. Daley took the oath of office of mayor of Chicago, a position once occupied by his father, Richard J. Daley.

U.S. 30 Development

U.S. 30 in Northwest Indiana became a gold mine for real estate investors as developers scrambled for land along the highway. Strip malls went up within a matter of weeks, and prospects of increased revenue brought about the hotly contested Hobart proposal to annex Ross Township.

Athletes' Feats

Youth serves

The 1989 French Open singles tournament belonged to the young. Arantxa Sanchez defeated top-seeded Steffi Graf to become at seventeen the youngest women's champion ever. Michael Chang, after eliminating top-seeded Ivan Lendl in the preliminaries, defeated Stefan Edberg for the title, continuing the youth sweep by becoming the youngest men's champion at seventeen.

Summer Olympics

The 1988 Summer Olympics was held for the first time in Seoul, Korea. The United States produced a fair amount of personalities. Showy Florence Griffith-Joyner and her sister-in-law Jackie Joyner-Kersey dominated track and field events. Muscular Matt Biondi and petite Janet Evans captured media hearts as well as Olympic swimming gold. Spectators were shocked when American Carl Lewis was awarded the gold medal for the 100 meter run after first place runner Ben Johnson tested positive for steroid use, and many held their breath as diver Greg Louganis returned after hitting his head on the springboard to continue his sweep in the diving events.

Teacher of the Year

Inland Steel named Mrs. Joyce Thomas Teacher of the Year for 1989. Mrs. Thomas, a teacher at Andean for eighteen years, currently teaches English I, English IV, and English IVx. She is also co-moderator of the Decussata.

New uniforms

When uniforms were introduced for both boys and girls, many boys objected. The new uniform was an abrupt change from the simple dress code that had been in effect for several years. Many girls, however, favored the new girls' uniforms over their own grey skirts and embraced Andean's return to Catholic school plaid.

Guidance center's first year

Andean's new guidance center provided students with more opportunities to take advantage of its services. Particularly successful was the National Honor Society's tutoring service. Honor Society members were available in the study room or conference room before and after school to provide tutoring in their areas of expertise. Many teachers referred students to the tutoring service whenever students needed additional help with classroom work, and a good number came of their own accord for help with homework.

After one team member came down with measles, all soccer players were required to receive vaccination against the disease before continuing play. The requirement was later applied to the entire school to prevent an outbreak similar to those at other high schools. Here, Brandon Brantley cowers in anticipation of the needle.

The Art Club sponsored a successful drive to raise funds for Wyler's Children's Hospital. Thanks to generous student response, the Art Club was able to buy enough art supplies to paint two murals for each room of the hospital and donate a Nintendo Game System to the children. Pictured are Roman Perez, Ame Palk, Missy Babicka, Denise Viene, Mr. Listro, John Todd, Geri Tucker, Ted Ciskowski, and Terry Chouinard, who orchestrated the effort.

Fundraising

Andean jumped into the fundraising game wholeheartedly. Boxed chocolates, candy bars, M&M's, and other goodies were in abundance throughout the entire year as different organizations tried to raise funds for their various treasuries. New fundraising ideas included a lunch raffle, sponsored by the boys' cross country team, where the winners were served fast food by various members of the team. Andean's annual calendar sale offered students the opportunity to earn the privilege of wearing jeans to school for a month. The silver sales gave students the chance to participate in "Pie-mania," a faculty-versus-students pie-throwing contest. Banking on continued Merrillville growth, Chicago Bears coach Mike Ditka opened a Merrillville counterpart of his Ditka's restaurant in Chicago, and opening festivities were sponsored by the Andean's Parents' Club.

Mixed doubles

Andean's annual mixed doubles' tournament was again a huge success. The top-seeded team of Jun Jao and Jackie Moran defeated the team of Kyle Stern and Cyndi Stypula for the title. For Moran and Stypula, this match was the second time they were pitted against each other for the championship.

Andean, into which we enter timid children and from which we emerge maturing adults, is a place of genesis. Personalities, able to cope with the varied realities of life, are created. The essence of this creative process is what we have tried to capture.

Having feasted upon the visual memories preserved within these pages, and having gorged ourselves with the recollections of the year,

Bert Kullerstrand, Matt Staley, Melissa Negron, and Rodney Thompson bounce out of school after spirit week celebrations.

Mike Sur, Tim Swan, Mike Conroy, and Joseph Doyle proudly straighten their morning coats before leading the graduates into Our Lady of Consolation.

Cassie Rozycki and Eric Mihal beam at the thought of the bright future that awaits them after graduation.

Rose Martinez, Ralph Torres, John Todd, Jesse Ramos, and Daryle Steffens celebrate a whiffle ball victory at the close of Armageddon.

Jeanette Murawski, Colleen Spanopoulos, Michelle Frankovich, Liz Pabon, and Wendy Lewis are all aglow in the warm sunshine.

we reflect upon the character and diversity that shape the student body of Andrean, of which this yearbook can present only a taste.

Savor and learn from your high school experience, consider the end of this school year a new beginning, and always treasure this taste of Andrean.
